fufter Loses in Homestretch After Setting Sizzling Pace

Sponge Horse" Looks All the World a Winner Until the Last Furlong; Earl Sande Rides Both Georgie and Bridesman to Victory

By Jack Masters

Georgie won the Brunswick Selling Handicap, carded as the feature or events at the Jamaica track yesterday, but not until the thousands backed this chestnut gelding had received the fright of their lives. Corgie was made a 1 to 4 favorite, but ran like a 100 to 1 shot until the homestretch, where he came to life just in time to beat Tufter, with had set a sizzling pace from the start. Wynnewood, the only other tarter, was badly beaten off.

when Wild Heather and Broomflax
when Wild Heather and Broomflax was scratched the race lost much of its interest. The talent pounced upon its interest. The following statement was go out by the American Red Cross, Madison Avenue, last night:
"Diversion of a share of the rec-but he was not quite up to Sande standards. At the half mile Bell saw a hole and shot through on the rail to open a lead of half a length on Bridesman. Sande rated along to a nicety, and when they straightened out Bridesman stood the gamest kind of a drive to get up and sande they have from of another short-priced one, Poeing, at 1 to 2, with Supercargo, a 1 shot, second and Good Time is the works on Rigel, which was hammered down to prohibitive odds for 2 to 5. Fator simply sat tight on this one and towroped the field. The chers never figured. Rigel was five lengths to the good at the turn into the stretch and won cased up, three lengths ahead of Prince of Umbria, with Rock Salt third. There was some play for Peter Brown, which closed second choice, but this one ran out while in second place and finished second choice, but this one ran out while in second place and finished second choice, but this one ran out while in second place and finished second choice, but this one ran out will be considered to win easily. She captured the first heat in 2:071%, but The Senator was best in the next two, winning in 2:06% and 2:07%. The Senator was driven by Lon McDonald.

The Board of Commerce Stake proved interesting, as it brought together one of the fastest fields of horses that ever traced. The fact that Mr. Geers was to a drive and had as his mount Sanardo, with which he had been winning all season, also added interest. However, Margaret Dillon, that also has been searched to win easily. She captured the first heat in 2:071%, but The Senator was expected to win easily. She captured the first heat in 2:071%, but The Senator was driven by Lon McDonald.

The Board of Commerce Stake proved interesting, as it brought together one of the fastest fields of horses that ever raced. The fact that Mr. Geers was to drive and had as his mount Sanardo, with which he had been winning all season, also added interest. However, Margaret Dillon, that also has been season.

Appeal for Share Of Series Money

The following statement was given out by the American Red Cross, 598

casied in his nostrils yesterday. He ran a brilliant race, but was outclassed.

It was Esrl Sande against Laverne It was Esrl Sande and Iet Fator take back after the start and let Fator take Tufter to the front, where he looked for all the world a winner until the for all the world a winner until the sand had figured he would. This was sande had figured he would. This was take break that the suffering players were waiting for, and there was a great shout of joy when Georgie thundered past Tufter. A'I to 4 shot is a hard bet to lore in these days, and hard bet to lore in these days, and Sande's clover ride brought him a round of applause as he weighed out. Georgie went over the mile and seventy yards in 1:45-nothing to boast about, as time goes.

Although prices were at low ebb, it was the best betting day that the talent had had in a long while, the last three races being won by the favorites. In the fifth Bridesman, flying the colors of the Shea Stable, went from 6 to 5 to 5 to 5 and just lasted to beat Dunce-cap by a neck. Canyon was third in this mile-and-seventy-yard test for three-year-olds and upward.

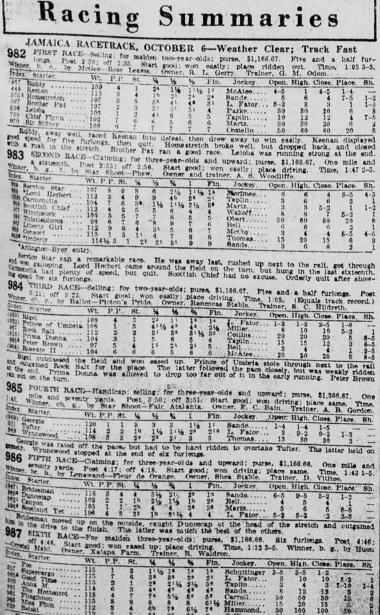

Here again it was the masterful riding of Jockey Sande that saved the family plate for the players. Jockey Bell, on Duncecap, rode a smart race, but he was not quite up to Sande standards. At the half mile Bell saw a hole and shot through on the rail to open a lead of half a length on Bridesman. Sande rated along to a nicety,

The Great Marie Wins

man. Sande rated along to a nicety, and when they straightened out Bridesman stood the gamest kind of a drive to get up and snatch the purse from Duneceap.

Canyon might have been dangerous but for being pinched back nearing the half-mile post. Martz brought this one sleng again, but the effort had taken is tell.

Laurel Entries

Noted as Whitey Witt Caught Forty Winks Off First

Trotter Breaks Two Records in $12,250 Stake

SERIES.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 6 .- The May

THE ENGLISHMAN WHO . WONDERED WHETHER THE

Two Favorites Eliminated in

Shawnee Golf

The Shawnee Gountry Club's invitation golf tournament to-day. In the upper half two Philadelphia players, P. A. Bicking, of St. David's, and Fred Wilk, Knight, of Whitemarsh, won their matches, while on the lower side the survivors were Dr. F. A. Steel, of Canoe Brook and R. W. Woolworth, of Scranton. They will meet as named in the survivors were Dr. F. A. Steel, of Canoe Gardner, of Buffalo, and Hawley Quier, of the Berkshire club, passed out of the picture. Gardner, despite, a homeward journey in 36 found himself all leaven with Steel on the eighteenth green, but the Steel on the eighteenth by seven with Steel on the eighteenth green, but the Steel on the eighteenth green with Steel on the eight end to be the steel of the steel of

Joseph McGinn, Noted Sports Writer, Is Dead

MOVIE OF BASE BALL GOING TO BABE RUTH IN RIGHT FIELD -IT GIVES AN IDEA OF THE EASE WITH WHICH THE BAMBINO MAILS 'EM (SMOOTE REEL)

Johnson Knocks Out Martin in 10th Round of Garden Battle

Iowa Heavyweight Batters A. E. F. Champion Into Submission in Sensational Bout, Which Ends When Manager Throws Sponge Into the Ring

By Jack Lawrence

Floyd Johnson, Charley Cook's heavyweight walloper from the wilds of Iowa, scored an impressive victory over Bob Martin, A. E. F. champion, at Madison Square Garden last night, when he left-jabbed the game soldier into a blue and bloody smear after ten rounds of the roughest sort of drilling. After thirty-one seconds of fighting in the tenth, when Bob's face was swollen, smeared and disfigured, Scotty Monteith tossed in a merciful sponge that brought the scheduled fifteen round bout to an end The crowd, which was fashionable but small, had been shouting to Martin's seconds to do this in the eighth and ninth, but they continued to pin a dying hope on the soldier's right hand. Martin had nothing last night but unconquerable gameness. Blinded with blood and bruises he was unable to shoot with his well known right with anything like accuracy. He sent this hand drilling across innumerable times, but it was wild and always missed its mark by wide margins.

In the third round Johnson's plston-like left hand tore a wicked gash over the lid of Martin's right eye and this wound bled profusely throughout the fight. The smear of crimson worried the soldier, but did not dim his courage any. He fought on and on gamely trying hard to connect with that right hand.

Johnson Staggers Martin pin a dying hope on the soldier's right

Johnson Staggers Martin Johnson Staggers Martin

Johnson had the better of all the rounds except the fourth which might have been called even. Martin, in the early stages of the milling, worked a left jab effectively, but there was nothing behind it that worried Johnson to any extent. Floyd kept boring in with his own port mitt and landed with this weapon almost at will. Martin took a right hook to the chin in the with this weapon almost at will. Martin took a right hook to the chin in the fourth round that caused him to stagger drunkenly to the ropes. In the fifth he was nearly out under the pressure of a rain of left jabs interspersed with an occasional right hook.

In Martin's corner they worked hard

The eighth and ninth were bloody sessions for the A. E. F. champ. He was game and would have continued had not his seconds saved him from the continued had not his seconds saved him from the continued had not his seconds saved him from the continued had not his seconds to the continued and captain.

In the opening bout of the evening Bobby Bolin, of the Bronx, defeated Willie Farley, of Yorkville, in four rounds. In the next bout Jakie Nor-man outfought Red Cap Wilson in a

Bouts Hereabouts TO-NIGHT

Fordham Eleven In Light Practice For To-day's Game

Brown, who weighed 132, landed the cleaner blows, but the affairs was dismal throughout. Spencer, whose weight was announced as 132, was never in danger of being hurt by Brown's line action, using the particular play that they had agreed upon.

Latonia Results

